Diskeeper 2007 Enhances Anti-Malware Security Software

Diskeeper Corporation Europe announced that the usage of anti-malware security software becomes considerably more efficient when Diskeeper 2007 is deployed on a system.

Anti-malware security software has become an ever-present commodity. Whether used on servers, desktops or laptops, the scanning of files on demand or as a scheduled process, is a significant part of the overall business security formula. Malicious software detection-and-removal applications scan files (including the Windows Registry) for known malware or malware patterns.

Disk fragmentation increases the time required to scan for and remove these malicious files extensively, which is why advanced disk defragmentation becomes expedient.

The use of an automated defragmentation tool such as Diskeeper 2007 provides an excellent compliment to any security software. Its advanced technology InvisiTasking™ features the ability to run invisibly in the background while disk fragmentation is solved in real-time. Hence malicious software detection is processed noticeably faster.

Diskeeper 2007 is now officially Windows Vista™ certified.
